

Wild talent

Train for a Level 2 work-based Diploma (NVQ) in Environmental Conservation

Do you love wildlife and working outdoors?
Are you practically minded and willing to learn new skills?
Have you thought about a career in nature conservation?

If you are 18 or over and live in London, you could be eligible for Wild Talent - a paid, one year traineeship with London Wildlife Trust. This work-based, practical training also involves some written work and leads to a Level 2 Work-based Diploma in Environmental Conservation.

Wild Talent aims to address skill shortages in the nature conservation sector and increase the diversity of our workforce. We aim to challenge the barriers that exclude people from working in environmental conservation.

Find out more at www.wildlondon.org.uk/wildtalent

Or contact Helen Wallis on 07964 951 991 / hwallis@wildlondon.org.uk

Supported by
The National Lottery[®]
through the Heritage Lottery Fund

Protecting London's wildlife for the future

London
Wildlife
Trust